❖ Statement of Purpose

Explain what you hope your research will uncover or demonstrate. State the question or series of questions you hope to answer.

❖ Background

Explain your interest in and experience with this topic. Describe any classes you have take in this or related topics, any reading you have already done in the field, or any previous research you have conducted on this or related topics. Include any personal experience that has led you to want to do more research.

❖ Significance

Explain why this topic is worth considering or this question or series of questions is worth answering. What are the local or global implications of this work? Why should BASIS let you pursue this topic?

❖ Research Methodology

Describe the kind of research you will conduct to complete this project (library research, internet research, interviews, observations, etc.). Explain the role your internship will play in helping you pursue an answer to your research question. Discuss the kinds of sources you hope to consult and the methods you will use to extract and process the information you gather in as much detail as is possible.

❖ Anticipated Problems

Describe the obstacles you expect to encounter and how you hope to solve them. Try to imagine every possible problem so that you have contingency plans and the project doesn't become derailed.

❖ Bibliography

List at least two sources that you consulted in order to write your proposal. Use proper bibliographic format (MLA, APA, Chicago, etc.) If you are unsure as to the appropriate citation format, check with your BASIS advisor. No Wikipedia!
